Diversity Quiz

This is a small sampling of clichés that folks use all over this country, not knowing that they are sometimes offensive and can shut someone down from talking about diversity issues or experiences. Circle the ones you have used and put a check mark around those that you have no idea why they might be harmful. Think of who you might ask if you wanted to find out why they were harmful.

1. I don't see color. We're all just human beings.
2. We have more similarities than differences.
3. I think deep down we're all the same.
4. Racism/sexism happens all over the world.
5. I think some people use diversity as an excuse.
6. I think identifying into groups only further divides us.
7. There are lots of other diversity issues other than race and gender.
8. I've never seen that happen before. Are you sure it happened?
9. Why does everything have to be so politically correct?
10. I was just joking. You're being too serious!
11. Things are a lot better than they used to be. Don't you agree?
12. We'd hire more women and people of color, but are they qualified?
13. I love everyone.
14. Do you really think it's that bad?
15. I'm so glad you're not like one of them.
16. You know, you're a credit to your people.
17. You don't see other races complaining.
18. I think it's reverse racism/sexism.
19. America is the best place to live.
20. Some of my best friends are colored.
21. You speak such good English, where did you learn it from?

Cross Cultural Facilitation Techniques for Diversity Trainers, Therapists & Social Workers

July 15-19, 2009 • Facilitated by Lee Mun Wah
Quan Yin Training Center • 2311 8th Street, Berkeley, CA

For details call 510-204-8840 or visit www.stirfryseminars.com/BTC

Facilitating a group with many cross-cultural perspectives and experiences requires a keen understanding and knowledge of how cultural differences can impact group dynamics, relationships and their sense of safety.

In this unique training, Lee Mun Wah will guide each participant through a series of exercises and mindful techniques that will enhance their understanding of the impact of culture on relationships, conflictual cultural situations, as well as how to develop a deeper and more authentic sense of community and openness within diverse groups.
